- Increase in reported quarterly domestic gray cement volumes in all of our regions
- Consolidated prices for our three core products increased sequentially on a like-to-like basis in local-currency and in U.S.-dollar terms

&lt;sup>1</sup> Like-to-like volumes adjusted for investments/divestments and, in the case of prices, foreign-exchange fluctuations

1Q14 achievements

- Consolidated cement, ready-mix and aggregates volumes increased by 8%, 8% and 12%, respectively
- Consolidated prices in local-currency for cement, ready-mix and aggregates increased sequentially by 3%, 2% and 6%, respectively
- Operating EBITDA increased by 15% on a like-to-like basis and adjusting for seasonal maintenance and inventory drawdown effects as well as for business days
- Conversion of approximately US$280 million of our 4.875% convertible subordinated notes due 2015
- Issuance during April of 6.00% senior secured notes for US$1 billion maturing in 2024 and 5.25% senior secured notes for €400 million maturing in 2021

- Increase in year-over-year volumes in our three core products
- Cement prices increased 7% from December 2013 to March 2014
- The infrastructure and formal residential sectors were the main drivers of consumption for our products
- During the quarter, the self-construction sector showed slight growth driven by an increase in remittances

- EBITDA increase fueled by steady volume growth, healthy pricing gains and favorable operating leverage
- Average daily cement and pro-forma ready-mix volumes increased despite unfavorable weather conditions
- Sequential price increases in our three core products
- Increase in operating leverage partially offset by maintenance work brought forward due to weather conditions
- The residential and industrial-and-commercial sectors continued to be the main drivers of demand in most of our major markets

- Year-over-year cement, ready-mix, and aggregates volumes increased in all countries, driven by better macroeconomic conditions in the region and favorable weather in most countries
- Sequential regional prices in local-currency terms increased for all our main products
- In Germany and the UK, demand for our products was driven by the residential sector
- Improvement in infrastructure spending, from a low base in 2013, as well as an improvement in the housing sector contributed to the increased volumes in Poland

- Increase during the quarter in cement volumes in Croatia and the UAE more than offset the decline in Spain and Egypt
- Regional price increases in local-currency terms, on a sequential basis, for our three core products
- In Egypt, the informal sector continued to be the main driver for cement demand
- Ready-mix volumes in Israel increased by 17% during the quarter
- In Spain, volumes of our products were affected by low activity in all sectors

- Increase in regional cement volumes mainly driven by growth in Colombia, the Dominican Republic, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, El Salvador and Guatemala
- In Colombia, positive performance during the quarter was mainly driven by the residential and infrastructure sectors
- In Panama, the residential and industrial-andcommercial sectors were the main drivers of consumption; quarterly volumes reflect reduced consumption rate and stoppages from the Canal expansion project; with lower volumes to the Canal project, weighted average prices have increased

- Increase in domestic cement volumes during the quarter reflects positive performance in the Philippines mainly driven by the residential sector
- Sequential regional price increases in our three core products in local-currency terms
- Increase in regional operating EBITDA favored by strong prices and higher cement volumes
- Growth in cement volumes in the Philippines reflects positive performance from the residential and industrial-and-commercial sectors, as well as from infrastructure spending, which includes projects related to reconstruction efforts

■ Working capital days increased to 29, from 28 days during the same period in 2013

Other income statement items

- Other expenses, net, of US$38 million during the quarter mainly included severance payments and a loss in sales of fixed assets
- Gain on financial instruments of US$44 million related mainly to CEMEX shares
- Controlling interest net loss of US$293 million mainly due to a lower gain on financial instruments and higher financial and other expenses, net, which more than offset higher operating earnings before other expenses and a lower foreign-exchange loss

2014 Outlook

2014 guidance

- We expect mid-single-digit increases in consolidated volumes for cement, ready mix and aggregates
- Cost of energy, on a per ton of cement produced basis, expected to be relatively flat from last year's level
- Total capital expenditures expected to be about US$645 million, US$505 million in maintenance capex and US$140 million in strategic capex
- We expect working capital investment during the year to be similar to last year's
- We expect cash taxes to reach US$600-700 million
- We expect a marginal reduction in our cost of debt, including our perpetual and convertible securities
